Georgia Blanket Objection #1: Georgia reserves the right to modify or assert additional objections to documents Florida seeks to introduce during the cross-examination of Georgia's witnesses, or on re-direct of any Florida witnesses.
Georgia Blanket Objection #2: Georgia has put forth its objections based on what it believes are the correct versions of Florida's exhibits. Georgia reserves the right to modify its objections upon seeing the final, stamped versions of Florida's trial exhibits. Georgia may also assert additional objections on completeness grounds should Florida attempt to introduce excerpts of documents, instead of complete versions.

Florida Blanket Objection #1: Florida reserves the right to modify these objections upon reviewing Georgia's pre-filed direct testimony and the use of exhibits with certain witnesses. Florida also reserves the right to assert additional objections to documents Georgia seeks to introduce during the cross-examination of Florida's witnesses, or on re-direct of any Georgia witnesses.

Florida Blanket Objection #2: Florida has put forth its objections based on what it believes are the correct versions of Georgia's exhibits. Florida reserves the right to modify its objections upon seeing the final, stamped versions of Georgia's trial exhibits. Florida also reserves the right to assert additional objections on completeness grounds should Georgia attempt to introduce excerpts of documents, instead of complete versions.
